“Effective Instructional Strategies in Reading”

Presented by Dr. Anita Archer

A professional development opportunity for general and special educators, administrators, teachers, AND general public

Dr. Anita Archer is a nationally renowned teacher, researcher and author. In her workshop presentations, Dr. Archer connects research on teaching and learning with specific instructional practices for classroom implementation across grade levels and content areas. Through her presentations, she consistently models the elements of explicit instruction and provides teachers and administrators with practical strategies for immediate classroom application. In this day long conference, a variety of research-validated procedures and strategies for supporting students in reading fluency, comprehension and vocabulary will be presented. This will include strategies to engage all children through active participation.

There is a block of rooms set aside at the Bozeman B. W. GranTree Inn; $86 Double/$80 Single. Reservations can be made by contacting the B. W. GranTree Inn at 406-587-5261 or 1-800-624-5865, please identify yourself as booking in the “MCASE Conference” Room Block/Group Number 805644.
